

Forbrain

Your brain is capable of learning and readapting throughout your lifetime, so why not give it a boost? Forbrain's patented device stimulates the brain's natural auditory process for strengthened attention, memory and speech, and other important life skills.

Clearer speech: Forbrain highlights the sounds of spoken language. It improves self-awareness, sound articulation, and fluency.

Sharper attention: The device sends vocal feedback to alert the brain which increases attention span, energy, and comprehension.

Stronger memory: Forbrain aids memory by lighting up brain pathways that result in increased productivity and retention.

Just turn the headset on and start talking. For optimal results, use for 15 minutes every day to boost your brain.

Help your child perform better at school, academically and socially by improving their skills in reading, communication, focus and memory.

It is easy to integrate into your daily routines, for example, Children may read a book with the headset on.

Harness your voice and experience real improvements at school, therapy, or work.
