

BUSS® Group: LEAPlets

BUSS® (Building Underdeveloped Sensory Systems) in early years group work; LEAPlets.

Helping children build underdeveloped sensory motor systems in loving relationships

LEAPlets, the BUSS® in early years group is an 11 week manualised group work programme designed to nurture and support the development of attachment relationships and build children's foundation sensorimotor systems.

The group is for children aged between 2 and 6 years of age and their caregivers. It is limited to 8 families.

Goal based measures will be taken pre and post the programme along with SDQ's, screening tools and observations from the leaders and caregivers.

The group is hands on, working with caregivers to understand their children's sensorimotor systems and how these have been impacted due to earlier life experiences.

There is differentiation within the group to ensure the individual needs of the children and families are catered for.

The groups are currently offered in Rotherham, South Yorkshire.
